

What Can I Do

TO Help?

All over the country people are asking themselves this question. Now that we are actually engaged in war the desire of those who remain at home to line becomes more urgent than ever before. It has been hard to find an outlet for this generous, patriotic spirit—a practical, satisfactory outlet, but one has been found: one that should appeal to every man, woman, boy and girl in this country. You people of Pemiscot county can show the boys that you are behind them by subscribing now to

THE HAYTI HERALD'S "Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund"

Here is your opportunity to perform a great, intimate and much needed service for those who are facing the biggest and hardest job the world has ever seen. These men have few enough comforts, but smoking is almost an absolute necessity and one that is easily within your power to fill.

One dollar will fill the empty pipes or provide the "makin's" for four of our soldiers for one week. You can spare this dollar and it will be the best spent, most blessed dollar you have ever spent in your life.

And the giver will not be unknown to the receiver. You will receive a postal card from him or from them and you will know that at last you have been of direct service and that your services have been appreciated.

Do what you can. If not a dollar, any part of it down to a quarter. Fill in the blank and send what you can along with it.

HIGH NECKS HERE

Will Share Honors With Collarless Models This Winter.

Women Are Not Expected to Receive Throat-Swathing Apparel With Great Enthusiasm.

A very determined effort is being made to popularize high-necked frocks and blouses for the coming fall and winter. How well women will co-operate with the fashion designers in this respect remains to be seen. It must be admitted that for several seasons the comfortable and almost uniformly becoming collarless frocks and blouses have held sway regardless of rise or fall of the mercury, and it seems safe to predict that the most that can be hoped for neck swathing good many military touches crop out in the arrangement of sleeves and collars. Occasionally an epaulet of heavy braid in self-color will appear on either shoulder, and again these shoulder pieces will be developed in contrasting color.

An extreme novelty that is worth mentioning, though probably not to be recommended as a leading style note, is the use of the chamolais as a trimming for georgette blouses. Bands of chamolais in contrasting color are used to trim collar, cuffs, vestee, etc., of georgette blouses, and frequently small chamolais-covered buttons fasten the garment.

Chenille embroidery is making a strong effort to rival bead embroidery as a waist trimming, due no doubt to the excessive prices now charged for beads. The chenille is very effective; but not so dainty as beads, and there is always a doubt as to whether chenille embroidery will wear well. It must be laid on in a very loose stitch to be effective.

FASHION'S FANCIES.

Pique and even gingham waistcoats are extremely popular, and often the hat has a touch of the same material to carry out the color scheme.

Hats of sheer organdie and little else but a bow or a flower are very smart for afternoon wear with a lingerie frock.

Nothing is more necessary than the parasol. The costume without one is not quite complete.

Every size, shape and form of parasol is to be seen, from the tiny midget to the voluminous full-grown affair.

Vails are leading lights on the millinery stage just now.

Most of them of white or black lace are worn thrown back from the face, but covering the top and back of the hat.

Charm of Crepes.

There is a prediction that crepes of many sorts will be decidedly fashionable next year. And for that all women are thankful. They have all learned of the charm of crepes of various sorts in the last few seasons, georgette and other crepe fabrics have been in such wide vogue. Perhaps one of the chief charms about crepe is that it clings and falls in such soft and attractive folds and lines. Moreover, it is eminently practical, for it does not show wrinkles.

The Senior Class of 1917 composed of the following members: Allie Thomas, Mae Merrill, Earl Raybuck and Joseph Kohn donated an elegant clock to the school last week. The example set by the class of '17 is worthy of emulation by the class of '18.

Robert Creely and his brothers, Mancel and Joe, will move to St. Louis this week. We regret to lose them.

More reference books arrived this week. This will make our library adequate to the needs of the school for the ensuing year.

Mr. O'Connor was out of school a few days this week on account of sickness.

The foot ball team goes to Kennett Friday afternoon for their first game. Our team is stronger this year and we are expecting a victory at Kennett.

Beulah Dowdy spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Essex.

Albert Faris of Braggadocio enrolled in High School last week.

Dr. L. H. Brannon is rendering some valuable assistance in coaching the boys for the foot ball game Saturday.

Have you visited school this year? Why not? We need your presence occasionally.

Harry L. Felts and wife of Dawson Springs, Ky., have been in this county the latter part of last week and this week visiting friends, also attending the fair at Caruthersville. Monday Harry was in this city attending to business. Harry is a Hayti boy, and some few years ago went with his father to Dawson Springs to make their home. They liked their new field so well that they drove down a stake and hung on, Harry later breaking into the newspaper game, and today he is the owner and publisher of that little city's newspaper, the Tribune, and is enjoying a nice business.
